

Howard Ruff's Crash Course for the Serious Amateur Investor

How You Can Be A Successful Investor in Good Times or Bad

On Bloody Monday, October 19, the world turned upside down. A bear devoured the bull market and left its bones bleaching on Wall Street. And thousands of investors all over the world were left stranded on the sidelines, by the most cataclysmic financial event in modern history.

The damage still hasn't been fully assessed, but on Tuesday, December 1, Howard Ruff will turn the world right-side up again in a critical, two-hour seminar.

Attend this seminar and you'll discover:

- ✓ What are the odds of deflation versus inflation?
- ✓ Which investments are terrific buys right now, and which ones are sure losers?
- ✓ Shortselling--How do you pick winning losers?
- ✓ Should you own gold and silver?
- ✓ What's ahead for mutual funds, and which ones will be profitable?
- ✓ How can you make leverage work for you?
- ✓ Should you be in the stock market now?
- ✓ How can you limit your losses (and even make money) in crashing markets while others are taking a beating?
- ✓ All this, plus much more!
